

Dear FCC Commissioners & Staff:

Write your letter here.

I have DSL and rely on my ISP giving me fixed IP addresses - I have 5
The telephone company does not allow this, they want me to host with them as well.

Should DSL become a telephone \ cable monopolyt I will be forced to host with an overseas dedicated server provider - in London. It is odd that you are considering putting small enterprise out of business when the rest of the world is trying to increase free market trade and competition.

Finally I regard this as an infringement on my freedom of religion and of my free speech. At present I can make a 600MB web site available to the world for under $70 a month, commercial web hosting in the US would be 10 times this amount!

Sincerely,

Paul Harries
